In 1995, Mike White began a company that would eventually evolve into All Star Girls Report. White, who had learned from men's basketball legends Sonny Vaccaro and Bob Gibbons, quickly changed the face of women's basketball with his in-depth, scouting service.

Bret McCormick has been a key player in ASGR's success since he first joined the staff in 1998. McCormick was on the Cincinnati coaching staff from 2004-06, and he recently returned to ASGR as the Women's Managing Partner. McCormick initially gained experience coaching on the high school level, and he was the recruiting coordinator at Marshall from 1993-97.
